Section A - Purpose

- 1. Introduction

Both globally and nationally it is recognised that parents are the single most important influence on their children's development, learning and achievement. The involvement and engagement of parents in their children's learning is recognised as a key element in raising attainment through support, help and encouragement given at home and whilst at school.

The Parental Involvement and Engagement Strategy demonstrates the commitment by Aberdeenshire Council to improve the quality and the extent of all parents' involvement in their child's learning and the important role they play in their child's education.

The plan sets out a vision for parental involvement and engagement for the next three years and covers a journey that a child takes from pre-birth to age 18. It highlights the leadership of those who make the difference day in and day out.

It is based on the guiding aim of Getting it Right for Every Child. It is informed by the central role of the family, whatever form that may take. The theme that lies at the heart of this plan is relationships - relationships based on trust, mutual respect and collaboration.

2. Background

This strategy has been informed by "Learning Together" Scotland's national action plan on parental involvement, parental engagement, family learning and learning at home 2018-2021, the findings of the Aberdeenshire Big Conversation 2017 and Aberdeenshire Council priorities 2017-2022 which direct the work of Education and Children's Services.

The specific relevant priorities are work with parents and carers to support children through every stage of their development and provide the best life chances for all our children and young people by raising levels of attainment and achievement.

3. Key Principles

Parental involvement and engagement relies on the principles of trust and collaboration, good conversations and emotional bonds. They serve a purpose and that purpose is to support the learning and development of children and young people.

This strategy is based on three key principles:

- That our priorities and our approach should be guided by the needs and interests of the child/young person and their family.
- That parents are the primary educators of children.
- That it is only through positive relationships – relationships between families, and those working with children and young people, relationships based on trust, mutual respect and partnership - that we will achieve our aims.

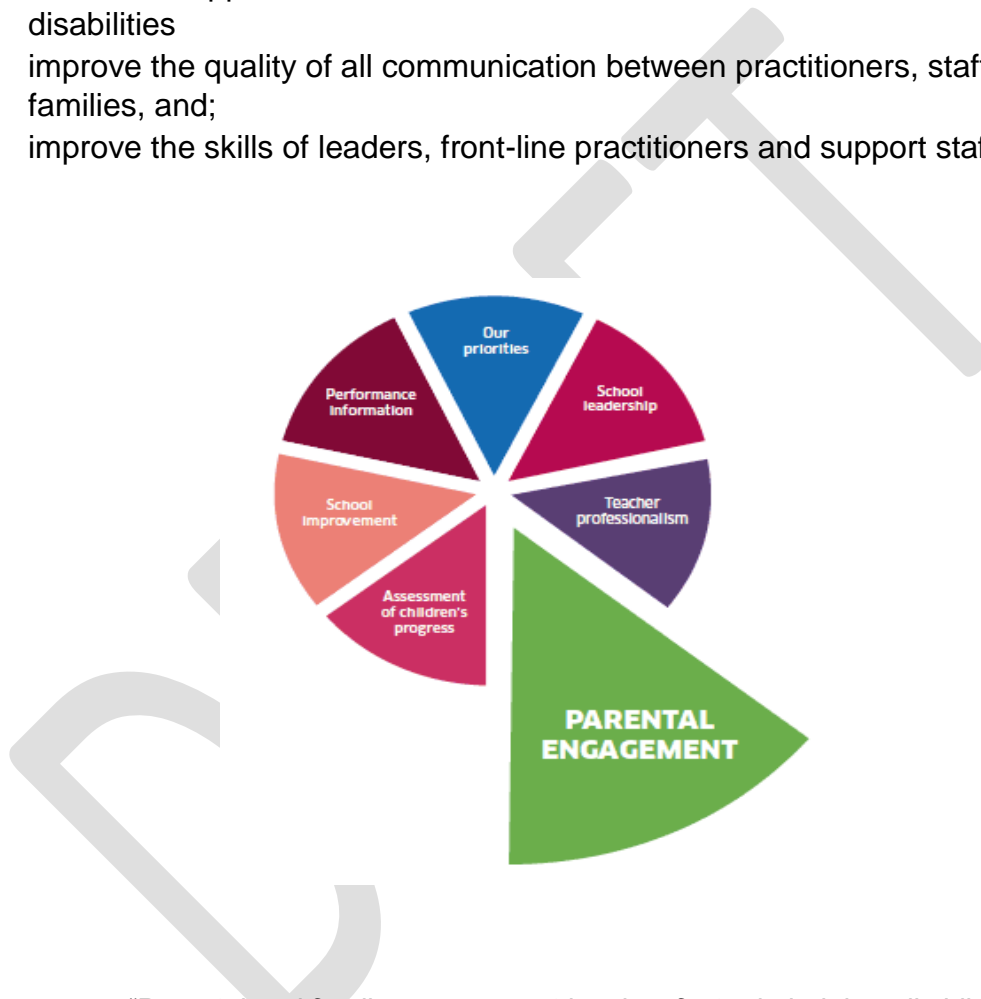

4. Vision, Values and Aims

Aberdeenshire Council will respect and actively seek the views of parents and build a climate of trust by genuine and honest engagement and collaboration to:

- ensure that parents are supported to be fully involved in the life and work of their children’s early learning and childcare setting or school;
- encourage and support collaborative partnerships between practitioners, parents and families;
- get the right support in place so that parents can engage in their child’s learning;

We will:

- expand access to family learning opportunities which meet participants needs
- encourage positive involvement of all parents plus targeted actions aimed at specific groups including ethnic minority parents, parents of children with additional support needs, those with disabled children and those with learning disabilities
- improve the quality of all communication between practitioners, staff, parents and families, and;
- improve the skills of leaders, front-line practitioners and support staff.

“Parental and family engagement is a key factor in helping all children and young people achieve the highest standards while reducing inequality and closing the attainment gap. Research shows that when parents and carers engage in their children’s learning, and when children and young people live in a supportive home learning environment, it improve children and young people’s attainment and achievement.”

2018 National Improvement Framework

5. Parental Engagement Support Hub Aberdeenshire (PESHA)

The Parental Engagement Support Hub Aberdeenshire is a small team of three officers consisting of a Service Manager, Quality Improvement Officer and an Education Support Officer within Education and Children’s Services whose role and remit focuses on the four key areas shown in the diagram below;

- Policy and Guidance
- Engagement
- Capacity Building
- Family Learning

The Parental Involvement and Engagement Strategy and Action Plan will focus on Policy Guidance and Engagement and the Family Learning Delivery Plan will be focused on Policy Guidance and Family Learning.

Capacity Building will be achieved through the implementation of both plans and in particular training for parents and Career Long Professional Learning for practitioners.

The Parental Engagement Support Hub Aberdeenshire (PESHA) team will have overall responsibility for the implementation, delivery and ongoing review of the Parental Involvement and Engagement Strategy in collaboration with relevant partners.

The Community Learning and Development team will be responsible for the Family Learning Delivery Plan in collaboration with relevant partners.

6. Parents Charter

A Parents charter is a joint statement which sets out a range of commitments which will underpin our vision, values and aims. The development of an Aberdeenshire Parents' Charter will be undertaken through parent workshops, focus groups and practitioner consultation.

The purpose of the Charter is to clarify roles and responsibilities and to foster collaboration between parents and other stakeholders based on the guiding aim of Getting It Right for Every Child.

7. Consultation Process

Consultation of the draft strategy will be undertaken during November and December 2018 with key stakeholders including parents and families, School Parent Forums via Parent Councils, all school staff, headteachers, practitioners, Early Years and Childcare Forum, Community Learning and Development, Educational Psychology Service, managers, partners and unions.

Consultation with elected members will take place in Area Committee workshops following approval to commence the consultation via the Education and Children's Services Committee. See consultation schedule in Appendix C.

The final draft strategy will be presented with findings to the Education and Children's Services Committee on the 21 March 2019.

8. Addressing Concerns and Complaints

Aberdeenshire Council recognises the vital role that parents play in supporting their child's learning and is committed to fostering positive relationships with parents. No matter how strong partnerships are, or how good our policies are, sometimes things can still go wrong and there may be occasions where parents wish to express unhappiness or dissatisfaction with council services, policies or staff behaviour.

When a complaint is made it must be handled in accordance with the Complaints Handling Procedure which provides two opportunities to resolve issues internally. In order to maintain positive relationships, it is usually better for all if parental concerns or complaints can be resolved at school/ early years setting level as quickly as possible.

https://www.aberdeenshire.gov.uk/media/14581/complaints-procedure-customer_v6.pdf

If a concern or complaint cannot be resolved at frontline resolution (Stage 1) then it will progress to Investigation (Stage 2) and a detailed investigation into the matter will be carried out. Complaints that are complex, serious or high risk and require detailed, lengthy investigation may be dealt with at the Investigation Stage from the outset.

Once the two internal stages of the Complaints Handling procedure have been exhausted, the complainant must be directed to the Scottish Public Services Ombudsman (SPSO) to carry out an independent external review of the process. The SPSO is the final stage of the complaint procedure.

Once the SPSO reaches a decision they may contact the council with recommendations for improvement and will provide dates by which the recommendations must be implemented. The council is required to report back to the SPSO and evidence that the required action has been taken

Appendix A – Definitions/Glossary

ALISS: A Learning Information Service for Scotland

ASN: Additional Support Needs

Child/Children: When the plan refers to “children” or “child” it means a person under the age of 18.

CLPL: Career Long Professional Learning The term refers to professional learning and development for teachers and practitioners in schools, early years settings and Community Learning and Development.

CLD: Community Learning and Development

EAL: English as an Additional Language

Family Learning: Family learning encourages family members to learn together as and within a family, with a focus on intergenerational learning. Family learning activities can also be designed to enable parents to learn how to support their children’s learning. ‘Family learning is a powerful method of engagement and learning which can foster positive attitudes towards life-long learning, promote socio-economic resilience and challenge educational disadvantage’ (Scottish Family Learning Network, 2016)

Learning at Home: Learning at home is the learning which happens in the home, outdoors or in the community. It can take place through everyday activities that families already do and can overlap with aspects of organised or active learning activities.

Parent/s: The term “parents” means anyone with parental responsibilities and others who care for or look after children or young people. The plan acknowledges that individual family units will comprise a wider range of people who might also contribute to a child’s learning at home experiences. Although the plan is titled a ‘parental’ involvement and engagement plan, there are a wide variety of parenting roles. The plan recognises the important role of grandparents, kinship carers, foster parents, wider family (uncles, aunts, cousins) and separated parents. The term “parents” and “parents and carers” are therefore used interchangeably throughout this plan.

Parental Engagement: Parental engagement is about parents’ and families’ interaction with their child’s learning. It can take place in the home, at school or in the community. Where it takes place is not important. The important thing is the quality of the parent’s engagement with their child’s learning, the positive impact that it can have and the interaction and mutual development that can occur as a result of that interaction.

PESHA: Parental Engagement and Support Hub Aberdeenshire is a small team consisting of a Quality Improvement Officer and Education Support Officer who report to a Quality Improvement Manager who have dedicated roles to take forward parental involvement and engagement in an effective a co-ordinated way across the local authority. They promote and encourage parental involvement and engagement and family learning through multi-agency meetings and work in partnership with the local National Parent Forum of Scotland representative and other parents. They also support Parent Councils, parents, practitioners and leaders with a program of training and information and work collaboratively with the Feedback team with regard to complaint handling.

Parental Involvement: Parental involvement describes the ways in which parents can get involved in the life and work of the early learning and childcare setting or school or the ways that parents can get involved in “schooling”. Parental involvement includes activities such as parental representation in the development of policies, improvement plans and key decisions. It can include involvement in the life and work of the establishment, for instance through volunteering opportunities. Parental involvement can also include help with homework or keeping track of children’s work and on-going, two-way communication between home and school or early learning and childcare setting.

NPFS: National Parent Forum Scotland. The Forum works in partnership with national and local government and other organisations involved in education and child wellbeing issues to ensure that parents play a full and equal role in education. The overall aim is to help every child to maximise their potential through their school life.
